PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Brigette Bogart has been engaged in the planning profession with private consulting firms since 1998. She was initially employed in New York State as a planner where she managed a wide range of projects including a number of special studies. These included the preparation of Environmental Impact Statements, which assessed the impact of development on watershed property in upstate New York, to corridor studies that included urban design plans for open space along major historic highways in Long Island and Westchester County.

In 1999, Brigette began working in the field of planning for a consulting firm located in the State of New Jersey, in order to service clients located in both States. In 2003, she was named a Partner with Burgis Associates where she had been involved in all aspects of physical planning. Over a 12-year span, she has represented several municipalities in the review of subdivision and site plan development applications and the preparation of land use regulations as well as master plan elements. In 2010 She received her certification in Grant Writing. When representing private clients, she has provided professional planning testimony and prepared planning analyses for projects ranging from variance applications, to comprehensive redevelopment projects.

In May of 2012, Brigette founded Brigette Bogart, Planning and Design Professionals, LLC, where she continues to provide planning and grant writing services to both public and private entities.
